National Pasta Day Food Drive

October 17

Each month the SPN Food Pantry and Homeless Ministry gives out over 300 lbs. of pasta and sauce to feed our hungry neighbors. Help us celebrate National Pasta Day by filling our shelves for the upcoming holidays. Please send items on Monday, October 17th.

Pre-K, K, 7th, 8th Canned ravioli with pop-top

1st, 2nd, 6th

1 lb. spaghetti noodles

3rd, 4th, 5th

24 oz. can spaghetti sauce

Did you know?

Early Spanish settlers brought pasta to the Americas as early as the 15th century.

During a stay in Paris in the 18th Century, Thomas Jefferson discovered macaroni and brought it back to the United States.

Italian Immigrants also brought pasta to the U.S. during the 19th century.

Interesting Pasta Facts.....

- Italians eat 60 pounds of pasta per person per year.
- Americans eat about 20 pounds of pasta per person per year.
- The U.S. makes over 4 billion pounds of pasta per year.
- There are more than 350 different shapes of pasta.

The Food Pantry and Homeless Ministry is experiencing a critical shortage of several of their staple items. We have been asked to bring in items on MONDAY, OCTOBER 17. Grocery baskets will be placed at the doors for the students to drop their donations.

Let's stock their shelves for the upcoming holiday season!

Students are asked to wear ORANGE shirts and SPN Shorts or SPN Sweatpants on Wednesday, October 19.

Congratulations to our latest Jester Card Winners!
Due to the Professional Day, Jester Cards were not pulled.

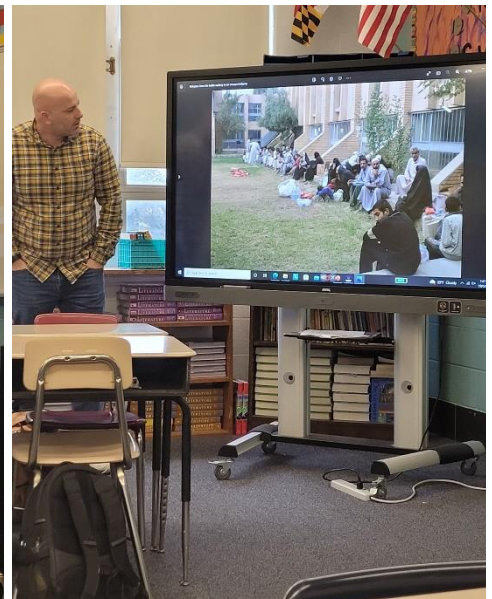

8A is reading a book called Sunrise Over Fallujah by Walter Dean Meyers. It takes place in Iraq in 2003 right at the beginning of Operation Iraqi Freedom, and the main character is the Civil Affairs Battalion. Ethan Hartford's (8A) uncle (Scott Spaulding) was in the Civil Affairs Battalion, and he came in to speak to the class about his time there. He joined the Marine Corps in 2003, served multiple deployments overseas, was a trainer for Civil Affairs when he returned stateside, and left active duty after 12 years as a Staff Sergeant. He then was a member of the Marine National Guard for years and is now a teacher in Baltimore County as well as a member of the Air National Guard.

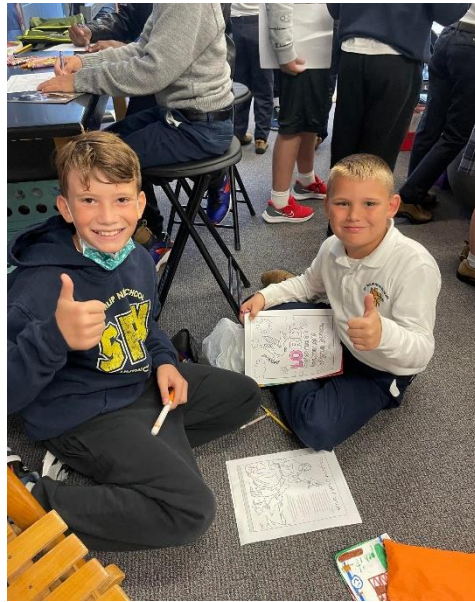

He talked about how the Civil Affairs job was to "maximize civilian support" and to "minimize civilian interference." Scott actually took the time to read the book as well so he was able to share stories and experiences that he had that were similar to what was in the book. Thanks, Mr. Spaulding, for interacting with our 8th grade class!

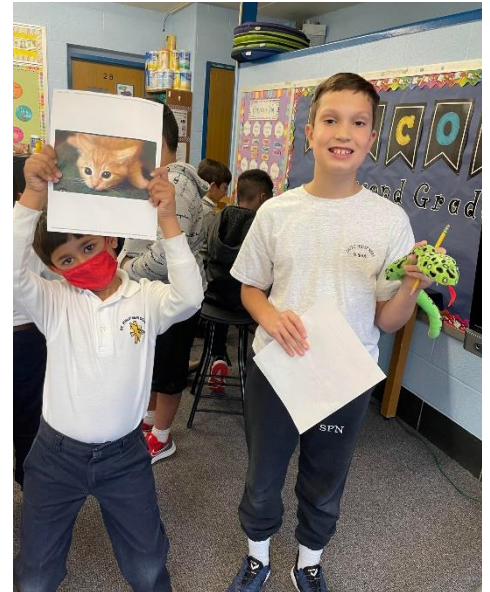

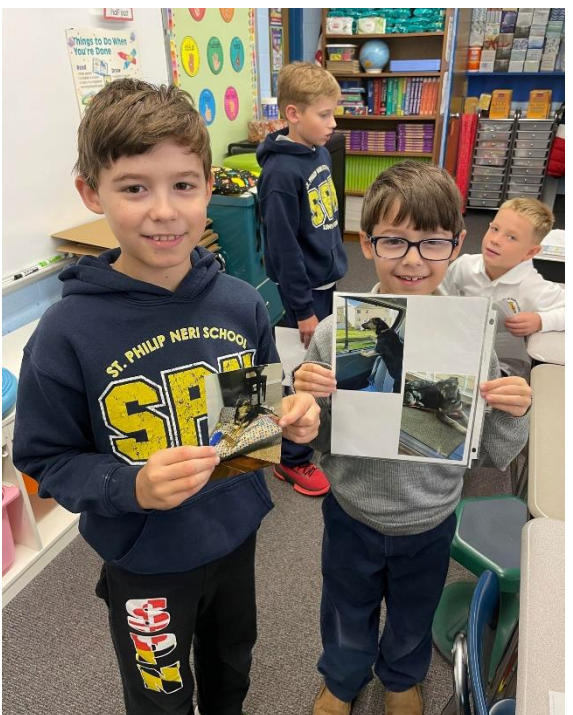

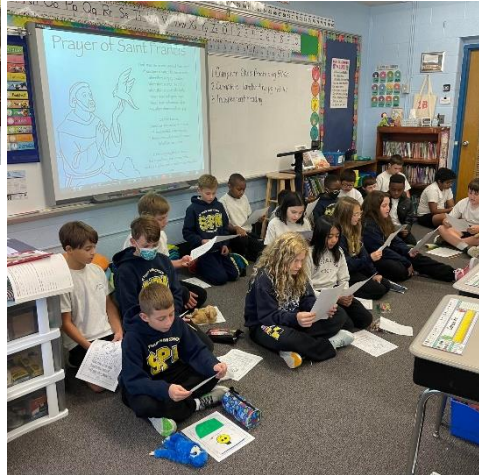

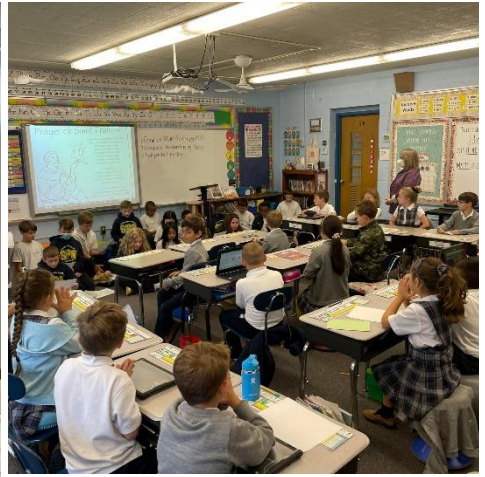

8th Grade students made pizza dough in science class. They are learning about chemical changes in chemistry. The pizzas were delicious!
