From Your Director ...

It is so hard to believe our journey with Beauty and the Beast Jr. that we began back in October is coming to a close.

As a teenager, I found my love for musical theater, and I am so blessed that I have been given the opportunity to share that love with my cast and crew.

From auditions to performance, I have enjoyed watching your children bring their characters to life. Stepping on stage and bringing a character to life is a very difficult thing to do. These children have worked many, many hours both in school and at home to understand, learn, and become their characters. It has been a privilege to work with such a talented group of students.

This time is also a little bittersweet as we must say goodbye to our 8th grade cast and crew. Amy, Ashlyn P., Ope, Emma, Joseph, Sofia, Annabelle, Ashlyn G., Sydney, and Madison. I have enjoyed watching them grow into the amazing young men and women they are today! Thank you for being such wonderful role models for the younger cast. We will miss you next year! We wish you the best of luck on the next stage of your journey. May God bless you!

Thank you Mrs. Daley and Ms. Burch for allowing us to continue this wonderful St. Philip Neri tradition. Thank you to our SPN faculty and staff for their support during this time. Thank you to all our parent volunteers. This has been such a great experience for not only the young actors and actresses but for me as well.

Finally, a huge thank you to my amazing team! Mr. Phil Lathroum, Mrs. Susan Spitzer, Mr. McGloin, and Mr. Maranto for all of their hard work. I would never have been able to direct this production without their help and expertise.

I hope you enjoy Beauty and the Beast Jr. as much as we have enjoyed performing it for you!

Your Director,

Ms. Amy

This one is for Sam, Annie, Allie, and Kenny!

From Your Assistant Director ...

Hello! I am thrilled to be a part of the Drama Department for, and the Assistant Director of our school play for the second year in a row! It's incredibly exciting to see our young people working so hard - after school and on their own time - doing something that they love and enjoy, simply to produce a joyous event for others. I've watched our girls and boys persevere during countless hours saying lines, singing songs, dancing to numbers, and just having a great time in preparation for Beauty & The Beast. Having done grade and high school theater myself, I know the elation that our students are experiencing this weekend.

I want to give a huge shout out to our director, Ms. Amy Sewell, who had a virtually brand new SPN teacher come to her last year, say he had played "Rooster" in "Annie", and wanted to help out with the Drama Club ... and had her welcome me with open arms to join her team. Which includes the very talented Mr. Philip Lathroum, who can multitask at countless skills like no other, and Ms. Susan Spitzer, who spends dozens of hours doing behind the scene work on costumes and props. Also, my fellow middle school teacher, Mr. John Maranto, also contributes his time to our team by working with the crews. Our team is INCREDIBLY talented, dedicated, and inspiring. I want to say that Ms. Sewell and Mr. Lathroum have two of the biggest hearts, and care very much about our children at SPN. They are an inspiration to me.

I'd also like to thank my wife, Christina, for putting up with nights of me arriving home at 6:30 or 7, and my son, Kian, who is very supportive of his dad in every way possible.

Please enjoy our play this weekend. So much hard work and dedication from everyone involved has made it happen, and I am delighted to say that I get to be a piece of the puzzle with respect to this production. I am proud to be a teacher (and drama club member) at SPN and to be a part of such a wonderful faculty, working with exceptional children.

Mr. Chris McGloin

From the Musical / Technical Director...

I want to thank everyone who has helped to make the behind the scenes portion of this show a success.

To everyone who took my scribbles on paper and helped to make them a reality.

To the faculty and alum who helped to paint or work on sets.

To the alum who just couldn't stay away and had to help with one more show.

To Mrs. Daley who almost never says no when we need to order equipment and supplies.

To our families who have sacrificed by not having us around during musical season.

To Papa Johns for delivering to the Cafegymatorium on late nights.

THANK YOU!

To my technical crew who will be running all of the lights, sound, and music during the show. I send the biggest THANK YOU to all of you. Every practice these students set up and tear down the sound and lights without fail. They don't stand in the spotlight, but they do run it, and if they do a good job you might not even know who they are there. Yet, without them the stars on stage would not sound as good or shine quite as brightly.

I also want to personally thank everyone who has donated to the show to help pay for new microphones, lighting and curtains. What we put together on this stage every year surpasses what most high schools and community theaters do and that does not happen by accident, but by design and with the help of many people in our SPN family.

When the curtain opens this show will be run 100% by our SPN students. Time for us to push a few buttons and make the magic happen.

ENJOY!

Mr. Lathroum

From the Costume and Props Director...

Beauty & the Beast is my 7th SPN production! Each year I spend a lot of time doing research into time periods and cultures, watching other schools' production and planning. I was excited to have Beauty & the Beast as our musical this year and face the challenges of costuming a large cast again, with the addition of some very special costumes that had to be ENCHANTED! I always have the same two questions- when will we fire the confetti cannons and how many ?

Inspiration comes from many sources. Of course, Belle needed her iconic yellow ball gown, but her everyday dress needed to be as special as Belle! Gaston and Lafue needed to be similar in color palette while reflecting their unique personas. The Beast needed to be beastly, but then become more refined as he falls in love with Belle. Outfitting an entire village in period appropriate costumes and creating the enchanted inhabitants of the castle was a special challenge. I took much inspiration from the live action version of B&B, created little backstories for characters (this helps me "see" the character's personality) and, of course, Pinterest!

Our actors have really shown dedication over the years, some of them have been acting in SPN musicals since they were littles in Mary Poppins. It is a bit sad to see our 8th graders leave us, but I know they have big things waiting for them in high school! We love you and will miss you- please come visit! The rest of the cast will go on to make more SPN production memories and I look forward to finding out what's the next show.

I especially want to thank Maddy Foster for all her hard work and extra hands during all the rehearsals and shows. I couldn't have pulled it off without you, lady. Also, this year, I had an SPN alumnus, Kendall Hamlin, make a donation to cover the cost of Mrs. Potts' costume. Kendall filled the role of Mrs. Potts in a previous production of Beauty and the Beast. Kendall, your generosity and kindness helped make our Mrs. Potts truly special. Lastly, and probably most importantly, I want to thank my husband, David, for his support through all seven productions. Thanks for putting up with the house being taken over by Amazon boxes, my crazy hours and a giant teapot taped to the light fixture! You are the best!

Much love,
Susan Spitzer

Hello! My daughter Evelyn and I are excited to share our passion for all things sweet with you! I started baking 8 years ago so Evelyn could enjoy celebrating all the things! We both manage life threatening food allergies and that makes safe store bought sweets virtually impossible to find. We have some go to treats--shout out to Enjoy Life and Divvie's---but they just don't hit the same as a fresh baked cupcake or warm cookie. And so my passion for creating the most delicious and allergen friendly treats was born. In January 2024 I decided to leave my full time role as an Operations Leader to launch Evie Bakes! I truly believe Everyone Deserves a Celebration and it is my pleasure to create treats that everyone can safely enjoy!

xoxo,
Christine & Evelyn
